Melvin Beymer is assisting his brother-in-law, W. L. Howard this week.

The entire Lawrence county was made to feel sad Monday by hearing of Grandma Moody's death. She was widely known and to know her was to love her. Her Christian life will live forever throughout Lawrence county.

Billie Brine are you aware that Jack Frost is making his rounds? Now let me caution you to be on the look out.

VIOLET.

PAXTON-MILLAN

John Paxton and Miss Maude McMillan were married at the Baptist parsonage last evening at seven o'clock. Rev. W. M. Rudolph officiating.

Both members of this couple have grown up from childhood in this city and are well known. The bride is the eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. McMillan and is highly respected and esteemed by a large circle of friends. The groom is a son of Judge Paxton and is a reliable and industrious young man. He is a brakeman on the Frisco out of Monett where the couple will make their home. —Southwest Journal.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to sincerely thank all those who so kindly assisted us in the last illness and burial of our dear mother and grandmother. May God's richest blessings descend and rest upon you.

S. M. MAYHEW AND FAMILY.

ROBBED OF PURSE

Mrs. John Ferguson was robbed of her purse while on her way home from town Friday evening. She was nearing her home on Central avenue when she met two men. Instead of allowing her to pass on the right of them, one stepped to the inside of the walk and the other on the outside. As she started to pass between them one snatched her large alligator purse which she carried under her arm and ran south. Mrs. Ferguson started in pursuit and followed them until they turned the corner of Second and Wishart going east.

The robbery occurred about 7:15 in the evening. The moon being bright, Mrs. Ferguson could see the men plainly and gave a good description to the officers. No arrests have as yet been made.

The purse contained only a small amount of money, but Mrs. Ferguson's bank book, an invoice sheet of goods and other papers were in it and she is inconvenienced by their loss.

It is thought that the parties live in town and deliberately planned the robbery, thinking she carried a sum of money from the millinery shop.

HOME MISSION

The Home Mission Society of the Methodist church, south, met with Mrs. Fowler on north fifth street on Friday afternoon at 3 o'clock. The attendance was large and a most enjoyable and profitable meeting was presided over by the President, Mrs. Todd, who lead in a devotional service, calling special attention to the scripture reading which exhorted all to keep the image of Christ ever before us as an example.

This being the regular session of the Home Department, the topic was "The mill hands and their families and the poor whites of the mountain districts and how they can be reached and helped to a higher plane of life." The roll call was answered by each member coming forward and paying dues for the month as her name was called.

After other business was disposed of the ladies arranged for their annual dinner and bazaar which has been observed at this season of the year for a long time. The exact date will be stated later on, but will perhaps be about the middle of December. After adjournment the hostess, Mrs. Fowler assisted by friends served a most delicious three piece luncheon followed by luscious California grapes served from a large cut glass tray.

This society is composed of some of the best Christian workers of our town and are fortunate in having some of the very best musical talent of the city.

SCHOOL ENTERTAINMENT

The high school basket ball girls gave an entertainment in the high school auditorium Friday night. The room was well filled and the program was thoroughly enjoyed by those present.

Music was furnished by the orchestra and high school pupils. After a miscellaneous program, the entertainment closed with a one act comedietta, "Who's to Win Him." The young people had been well drilled in their parts and gave the play with spirit and humor, keeping the audience in an uproar of laughter. A neat sum was secured to be used by the young ladies in paying for equipment for their team.

WONDERFUL MEMORY

"Speaking of memories, Wimpleton has the most wonderful memory of any man I ever met."

"I never noticed anything remarkable about it."

"Why, he has a memory absolutely under control. If he borrows a dollar of you he can forget it immediately, but if he happens to loan you a dollar he simply can't forget it."

Mrs. Will Weaver went to Kansas City Friday.

Happy Days.

Good news to little children—
The winter-time is near,
The frost is on the pumpkin,
The chilblain's on the ear;
The wheat has long been garnered,
Long faded is the rose,
And while outdoors it snows, it blows,
The world it blows its nose.
Good news to little children—
It's time for rubber boots
And worsted mitts and ear-taps
And woolen union suits,
The snow gets in your boot tops,
And snowballs black your eye,
So hip, hurrah, my children!
The winter-time is nigh!

—Judge.

BIG SUCCESS

The play "The Apple Bee" was a grand success financially, and we truly believe every other way for those present seemed to be having a good time. The Woman's Union desires to thank the city press for their kindness, for we fully realize without their assistance our efforts could not have accomplished much. More than five hundred tickets were sold and about a hundred and ten dollars cleared. The play was a true reproduction of home and social life of the farmers and their friends of the early part of the last hundred years; and while not at all veneered, was clean and wholesome. Not one bit of harm or a word that would call for a blush from the most modest. And while some of us have put aside dancing with other things of our youth, we can truly state that this little comedy was a replica of the book, as arranged by the author. We believe it called forth more real enjoyment than something of a higher order would have done. In the old days they lived close to nature, and it does us good to thrust aside the formalities of this present age and join in harmless fun and frolic. This little comedy gave our young folks a chance to show any talent they may have in this line. We have neither time or space to specialize, so will say they did well and each and every one was "all wool and a yard wide." The Woman's Union feels thankful to everyone especially so to those who assisted in the play. To the musicians, and to the press, and last but not least to the big crowd of laughing happy people, old and young who honored us with their presence. Again thank you. x x x.

DAIRYING IN MISSOURI

Prof. C. H. Eckles of the Missouri Experiment Station has been making observations in the farm dairying line in the state. "The milk produced by the average Missouri cow in a year," says Mr. Eckles, "will sell for about $50 at the creamery or when made into first-class butter. A good cow of the dairy breed will make at least $50 cash income every year. I have a list of about 50 Missouri farmers who report a cash income of $50 to $100 a cow every year and these figures do not include the income from the sale of calves and pigs fed on the skim milk. "But," says one, "milking is a tremendous task." As a matter of fact, it takes only 60 hours, worth 15 cents an hour, to milk a cow twice a day for 10 months. Last year the cash income from the herd of Jersey cattle on the college farm was $82.50 a cow for butter sold and $12.50 a cow for milk, skimmed milk and calves, making a total income from each cow of $95. This year the average income per cow from the same source will be $100 for the entire herd of 28. These results do not come from expensive or excessive treatment of any kind. But they are the results of doing the right thing at the right time in the proper way.

HEROIC ACT

One thing which makes Peary look like a hero is that he lectured free of charge. —Pittsburg Chronicle-Telegraph.

YOUNG HALLIBURTON FOUND

Carthage, Mo., Nov. 19.—An appeal for money and for a chance to come home and go to work today notified Judge J. W. Halliburton, of this city, of the whereabouts of his son, John Halliburton, who mysteriously disappeared from Columbia, Mo., October 11. The news of the young man came in the shape of a postal card from Little Rock, Ark., in which he appealed to his father for some "real money," so he could come home. The father departed tonight for Little Rock. Young Halliburton became much dissatisfied with university life and asked permission to go to work. His father agreed and sent him $100. Then John disappeared.

Cassville News.

About 100 relatives and friends surprised Orvil Vineyard at his home on Woodward's Creek, Sunday, Nov. 14, 1909, it being his 85 birthday. A splendid dinner was served by the visitors and a general good time was had. Mr. Vineyard is one of the best and oldest citizens, and he as well as his visitors enjoyed the visit very much.

Jas. M. Bayless of near Corsicana, has sold his fine span of mules that took the premium at the county fair for $500 to an Aurora man.

Missouri is having some practical experience in Republican extravagance that will undoubtedly place that party in a bad plight with the people.

Mrs. Zettie Crumley of near Monett, has been visiting relatives south of town.

The ladies of Cassville shipped a barrel of canned fruit and a case of tomatoes to the Orphan's Home in St. Louis this week. This act will gladden the hearts of many a little tot.

THE GRAND JURY

The Grand Jury examined the county farm and found that the manager was handling the same in a good business like manner.

He also examined the jail and found the same to be in a good sanitary condition, but recommended that the inside of the structure should be eased with metal so as to make it impossible for prisoners to dig through the walls.

The question of engaging an expert accountant to audit the books of all of the county officials was discussed at length but was defeated by a vote of 7 to 5. We believe the grand jury made a mistake by not doing so.

A GOOD OLD BOOK

There is no book like the Bible. Nowhere can we find such truth or find truth so well expressed. Aside from the wonderful literature of the Old Testament we find in the New Testament the moral code which is destined to conquer the world. The conception of life which Christ presented by precept and example is the world's great need, a conception in which greatness is measured by service and happiness is found in doing good. The moral awakening upon which we are entering is due primarily, to the increased application of Christianity to daily life and to the problems which present themselves to the generation. —The Commoner.
